fuse*

fuse* is an Italian collective of artists and media designers that develop projects at the intersection of Art, New Media, Digital Interactive Installations, Architecture, Visual and Sound Design.

Since the beginnings, the research is addressed to multisensory design, and the use of reactive systems for installations and live performances, trying to explore in more depth the aesthetic and conceptual possibilities offered by the interaction between light, movement and sound.

Over time, commissions have evolved also toward permanent works, with an increasingly strong tendency towards the interaction between media, space and architecture.
