Hello,

As someone with love for art & design in the film production medium and capable of rendering overall style and soul to projects, I represent new media.

Having grown up in the rehabs in the city, I have always wanted to capture moments that are decisive and intense of individual growing up. That actually led me to go through advertising and documenting memories on camera to be presented or executed to generate a message.

I take great interest in writing short poems that have a rhyming rhythm to it and short stories that have my everyday experience in them.

I wish to make 2 of my short stories into short features. I am currently working on the screenplay and I have a rough draft ready.
